

Whats been going on?

I am trying to get back on track of blogging. And when I do blog its not about our “everyday life”. I would like to share with you what we’ve been up to this past month and show you some adorable pictures!

We have finally gotten over that nasty virus and I couldn’t tell you enough how happy I am that it is GONE! Sick babies are no fun and just down right heart breaking. I love my happy smiling angels and so glad they’re feeling better! JP has been tugging at his ear again so I might take him back to the doctor this week just to check!

Instagram has video’s now! I’m sure you all know this by now but I’m so glad they have videos now! Follow me! Jenzant1

Maddie is growing at an unbelievable pace. The twins grew fast to me too but it didn’t go by near this fast, She will be three months in just one short week and it amazes me. This little girl is so strong! She has been rolling over since she was 8 weeks old and she’s now even “scooting”. I hope she’s not one of those ones that will be crawling at 5 months because this momma isn’t ready for three mobile babies!!

She's been smiling for quite sometime too. Her little smile just melts me every time!

Jocelynn and JP are wild.as.ever. I love watching them interact with each other. They are the best of friends and I hope they will always be there for one another. And watch Maddies back too;)

We've been getting more help from family since Maddies arrival! I never thought the day would come but I am so happy it has. Me and the hubs even fished a tournament one night last week. Joey and Rhonda (Matts dad and SMIL) kept the twins. They even bathed them and put them to bed for us! That's the first time I've missed the nightly baths and bedtime routine. It was so nice just to spend some time with my man and just enjoy our it. I forgot how much I love fishing! I haven't been since before being pregnant with the twins! We had a blast and we came in second place!

We are leaving here on Friday and heading to the beach!! Yay! We are over due for a vacation! We are going to stay with my parents since they live there and it will be nice spending some time with them! I haven't seen my dad since the birth of Maddie. I miss him terribly! I have already started packing. I cant believe I'm packing for a family of 5 now! It still amazes me but I love it so much. Ill be bringing my laptop and hopefully blog every other day at the last since ill have more help and time down there!

Hope you are all having a lovely Saturday!! Just a few more pics for you...
